

Development Of Pulpwood Industry Unequalled In The History Of Our Commerce

Development of some of the natural resources of Canada has within the past decade been of unprecedented and startling proportions which are almost phenomenal, says the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior. The forests lands of the prairies, owing to the great increase in the paper and pulp industries at the enormous grain crops which they have produced, have overshadowed all other development.

The prairies, however, are not the only natural resources in Canada that have increased in value as an increasing scale within very recent years. The older provinces of the east have witnessed the rise of an industrial production that rivals even the record of western production. The commercial value over one million acres of western farm lands is almost matched by the commercial romance of the lumber forests of Eastern Canada and British Columbia. For these reasons there has been a great leap in Canadian experience—acquiring only the advance of the farming frontier of the prairies—to equal the speed and completeness with which the Dominion's timber and pulp industries have increased. The prairie timber trade, in fact, has become so intense that today ranks among the very foremost producing properties of the country.

From earliest times the forests of Eastern Canada have played a leading rôle in the economic life of the entire nation. The sawmills have founded many Canadian communities and fortunes than almost any other form of industry. More than fifty years ago, when the sawmill was first established by colonists, the new Dominion was known to other countries and destined for years to be known mainly as a source of lumber. And sawmill products have remained down to the present day the chief article of export—a good part of Canadian trade in all quarters of the globe.

But after the long round of decades and even centuries of broadening development, it has been in the last ten or twelve years witness an utterly astonishing growth of forest industries. The pulp and paper mill has usurped the prestige of the sawmill, lumbering still clinging to the status of the second largest Canadian industry, but in an amazingly short period it has risen to the size of a gigantic upstart which in some respects at least overtops the old giant.

Alberta Telephones

Earnings During 1923 Were Greatest in Three Years

The earnings of the Alberta Government telephones for 1923 amounted to $2,356,196, which is the highest figure ever behind the development of Canada's pulpmill industry in the various American market for paper, particularly for newspaper.

The telephone system invented a hot seat work ther. One can stand on a corner and see scores of cars bearing down town in the morning, each carrying its military passenger, the postman, the mail carrier, the boy scout, but come down town in seven cars. Motors are sometimes seen in a stream going towards Hamilton. People used to go to go to town to buy their clothes. Men could ever make journeys by horse, but now they are kept busy doing it.

Motors, too, are fond of good roads, and thousands of horses are kept harnessed to the wagons. In the days of the horses which have been much used of late hauling motors out of snow banks and mud holes.—Toronto Star.

The telephone service for last year was $1,257,223.33, which is the lowest in proportion to the earnings for the years 1921 to 1923, inclusive.

Although there has been an increase of the services over the year, owing to the steady increase in unavoidable expenditure, there is a possibility of increased rates, according to the report.

Last year, 802 telephones were added at a cost of $14,295. The total number of telephones in use is given as 67,297.

Supremacy of Canadian Cars

The supremacy of Canadian-made automobiles and motor trucks in the New Zealand market is shown in returns published by the Commercial Intelligence Journal. Canada sold nearly twice as many cars in New Zealand in 1923 as did the United States, Canada, and quadrupled its own 1922 business. In 1923, New Zealand imported 7,388 cars, worth £96,534 from Canada, as compared with 1,309, worth £54,511 from the United States.

The ancients believed that a child born on October 2 would do a week dead. For adults, horse-lifting death was horrid, no driving were to be had in the public places. Otherwise, death within forty days was promised.

Fond Of Rice

Peru's rice consumption last year was 132 pounds per capita, or approximately one-third of a pound a day for each man, woman and child. This is an increase of 16 pounds per capita over 1922.

Wealth From Tourists

The Value of Good Roads and Previous Maps for Visitors

While of course it can only be approximate, the estimate of the Dominion Parks Board that $156,000,000 was spent in Canada last year by tourists is probably not far from the mark. The board couples the estimates with an obvious deduction that might be overlooked, namely, that although the scenic beauty brought in much money into Canada, the tourists did not expand in the depletion of natural resources. "The same scenery will be there for others to pass at this year,"

Do you know the returns are figured this way:

British Columbia $36,000,000

Saskatchewan and Manitoba 20,000,000

Alberta 10,000,000

Ontario 30,000,000

Quebec 16,000,000

Manitoba 16,000,000

Alberta is probably the best exhibit as an indication of what can be done.

The enormous increase in tourist revenue for the opening of the Banff and Jasper Parks for the construction of automobile roads and the provision of accommodation for visitors. There have been those who have criticized the expense of the parks under its control, but in drawing attention to the riches that Canada's beauty spots can be made to attract in this age of the automobile. From the Ottawa Journal.

More Horses Than Ever

Motor Cars Have Not Dethroned Our Business

It is said to be held that the motor car would put the horse out of business. But it has not done so. To some of us horses may seem few, but the agricultural census of Canada shows that in 1923 there were 1,957,364 more horses in Canada in 1923 than there were in 1911. The actual figures were 3,621,362 in 1923 and 2,798,556 in 1911.

More horses have been invented a hot seat work ther. One can stand on a corner and see scores of cars bearing down town in the morning, each carrying its military passenger, the postman, the mail carrier, the boy scout, but come down town in seven cars. Shipments of Fruit to Prairies

During the past year the Association of British Columbia shipped 2,235,000 boxes of fruit to the prairies of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and the West Coast, and sent to various foreign markets, including Holland, Belgium, Scandinavia, China, Africa, New Zealand and Mexico.

Heart of Voltaire
Has Been Found In Paris Where It Was Hidden Sixty Years Ago

The heart of Voltaire, the famous French satirist which was lost after being hidden in a silver casket and stolen from the Louvre, the National Library in Paris about sixty years ago, has been found hidden under a layer of dust in a corner of a dunned room. M. Martel, the newly appointed head of the Louvre, made the discovery. While exploring the premises he entered an abandoned room, and saw the casket in front of the pedestal of Voltaire's original statue of Voltaire. The statue and the casket were covered with a thick layer of dust. The casket, which was locked, bore the inscription, "Voltaire's heart."

As soon as a key can be made it will be opened by the minister of education and transferred to the Pantheon to be buried in the ashes of France's illustrious sons.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. King, Anna and Martin, returned on Monday afternoon, from a very enjoyable vacation in the mountains in Washington, Oregon, California. They also visited the Grand Canyon and claim it the most wonderful sight of the whole trip.

Close to 200 people attended the 10th anniversary dance given by the Scriven orchestra in Grand theatre last Friday evening, and, needless to say, a rare old time was had by everyone. Fred Bell, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bell, was the only one to enter the step-dancing contest for children, and consequently carried off the prize. He was real good, though, and deserved it.

Court Whist tally cards at The Journal Office.
